ROCK 'N ROLL PODCAST THE STREET PRESS INVITES YOU BACKSTAGE

The Street Press Podcast takes you backstage to hang out with some of the biggest names in rock 'n roll, as artists spill the beans on their lives and careers.

Hosted by Sydney radio news presenter and music journalist, Sean Frazer, the show has peaked at #8 on Apple's Music Interview Charts and #38 in the Music Charts.

"It's been such an incredible experience so far and I'm chuffed that people are getting around it each week" said Frazer.

"I like to throw any formal interviewing techniques out the window and instead enjoy a relaxed chat with artists, it's meant to be fun"

"There's something refreshing about simply turning on the microphones and just seeing where the conversation leads"

The most recent episodes have featured the likes of Frenzal Rhomb, Eskimo Joe, Kisschasy, Choirboys, Sly Withers, The Church, and Hoodoo Gurus to name a few.
